EAGLES AND ELKS LINE UP FOR BIG BATTLE

Today Men of Both Organizations Will Have Full Control of City--Parade, Ball Game and Other Athletic Events in Afternoon.

on the diamond and the air around California Heights gives promise of being permeated with a lightning blue that will savor of brimstone. Much money has been wagered on the outcome of the game, both teams having practiced constantly for the past month.

The procession will be headed by J. J. Owens, who is marshal of the day. His aides are Exalted Ruler George W. Thatcher of the Elks, and Past President Judge W. A. Sawle of the Eagles. The ball teams will march side by side, the Elks headed by Water Boy Willie Wise, and the Eagles headed by Water Boy Johnnie Brissell, then will come the Eagles-Elks float, which will be surmounted by visions of beauty in distress, then will come the apparatus of Tonopah's fire department. A novelty in the shape of the sheriff's float will be next in line. This will be followed by other floats from business houses. Eagles and Elks follow in full regalia, that is, some of them will probably be regaled until they are nearly full. Geo. Malley, the young son of Chief Malley, will head the Elks. The line of march will be down Brougher avenue to the intersection of Main street, down Main to depot and then countermarch up Main to the ball grounds.

The following is the lineup of the ball teams:

Elks	Eagles
Agnew	O'Hara
Hurd	Peel
Powers	Maller
Mullens	Kelley
Hoxsie	Hertel
Musbett	Smith
Rogers	Beckley
Loring	Platt
Crockett	Hayward
Elk subs—Erbs and Bowers.
Eagle subs—McCarran and the entire organization.

It is understood that Chief Malley has been in constant attendance at the ball games of the Pacific Coast League, where he has acquired a knowledge of certain of this year's curves which he will put in to effect after the fifth inning. As an inducement to the batters, the Tonopah Liquor Company will give a quart bottle of Sunnybrook whiskey to each batter who succeeds in hitting the bottle, providing they hit the sign which decorates the field first.

Puddy Grimes will officiate in the capacity of umpire.

A special train leaves Goldfield at noon and returns at 7:30 in the evening. Five hundred people have already secured tickets and the crowd will probably be augmented to several thousand.

A kangaroo court will be held on the grounds, and it has been determined that the fine shall not exceed half a dollar.

A tug of war is scheduled to take place between teams of both organizations in front of the grandstand at the park, immediately preceding the ball game.

All Tonopah will be there.

TRIPLE MURDER IN EAST

MOTIVE THOUGHT TO BE ROBBERY OR POSSIBLY REVENGE.

(By Associated Press.)
MATTEAWAN, N. J., May 16.—William Shepard, a farmer, who lived four miles south of Matteawan, his wife, and servant named Jennie Gendy, were found dead in the farm house today. It is believed they were murdered. An infant, unharmed, was found in a cradle near by. All the victims had been shot. Shepard was a dealer in squabs, his place being called the Royal Squab Farm. The murders were discovered by a Pole employed by Shepard, and he gave the alarm. The officers are of the opinion that the motive for the triple murder was robbery, and possible revenge. The police are searching for a farmhand who disappeared two days ago after a violent quarrel with his employer.

Frank Crooks, who is held, was captured this afternoon near Freeholt, and is now in jail at that place. Blood stains were found on his clothing, but Crook, who is also a farm hand, says these came from the killing of chickens. The stained garments will be sent to a chemist for examination and the prisoner will be held pending an investigation.

Frank Zasters, who discovered the bodies, was brought to the county jail at Freeholt tonight and held as a witness. He is said to have told conflicting stories.

RIOTING AND BLOODSHED AT CLEVELAND

(By Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—In the midst of a day of incipient rioting, some bloodshed, general disorder, inconvenience to the car-riding public and a partial stoppage of the street railroad service, incident to the strike of conductors and motormen of the Municipal Traction Company, came a proposition tonight to stop further violence and submit the whole matter to arbitration. This was the situation late tonight, created by Joseph Bishop, a member of the State board of arbitration. Bishop, in conference with Vice-President Adolph Behner of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, proposed that overtures be made to the company looking to a peaceful settlement of the controversy. President Dupont of the traction company, when informed of the movement, said the company was willing to arbitrate, but the proposition should come from the union. With the union unwilling to take the initiative, the matter of a peaceful settlement and immediate termination of the disorder is still an open question. In the meantime disorder continues. The night was made eventful as the result of the company rescinding an order made during the day. It was at first proposed to stop all cars at dark, but later in the day it was decided to maintain service after dark. From the moment the strike went into effect, early this morning, there was more or less rioting. At noon Mayor Johnson issued a proclamation, stating that the full power of the city would be used to assist the police authorities in maintaining order; that disturbances would not be tolerated and disorder would be met with force adequate to suppress it. Motorman John Dubler was beaten to unconsciousness late tonight and was left lying on the street. It is thought he is fatally injured. Many others were roughly handled, but their wounds are not considered serious. Mayor Johnson, who also is treasurer of the traction company, said the strike was all foolishness and that he hoped to bring it to a close speedily. Tonight fully 25 per cent of the normal service is maintained.

Thaw was on the stand but a short time, and answered a few questions put to him in general without hesitation. Both parties agreed offer no arguments, but will prepare briefs, and the judge said he would probably be ready to hand down decision on Monday, May 25. In meantime Thaw, by order of court, will remain in the custody of the sheriff's office.

Which ever way Judge Morscher decides, the case will go to appellate division in Brooklyn, both sides will be prepared to argue an appeal at the June term of court.
